ABOUT US: The Sydney Modern Quilt Guild has members of all ages from across metropolitan Sydney and beyond. Membership is open to anyone who is interested in the modern quilting movement.

The Sydney MQG was established in 2012, before registering as an Incorporated Association in April 2013. We are affiliated with the international Modern Quilt Guild and are also a member guild of QuiltNSW.

From time to time, we get involved in sewing for charity, making a QuiltCon entry or a variety of intra and inter-guild challenges and activities. We co-host the Modern Quilt Show Australia in conjunction with Wollongong MQG. We also hold an annual retreat and run workshops on modern quilting techniques.

WHEN WE MEET: The Sydney MQG meets monthly on a Sunday, from 11am – 4pm at the Ashfield RSL. Dates are listed on our website and Facebook pages.

A Sunday Sewday is a chance to bring along some of your projects and work on them with other like-minded modern quilters. Feel free to bring a sewing machine along to the meeting. Should you need assistance carrying items up the stairs, please let us know before the meeting and one of our lovely members will help you.

Visitors are welcome to attend our monthly Sunday Sewday meetings. Cost to attend is $10 per meeting. After 2 free meetings, if visitors wish to continue to attend they are required to join the Guild as full members and pay the joining fee and annual membership.

ASHFIELD RSL

We meet at the Ashfield RSL Club located at 374 Liverpool Road Ashfield.

Parking is free.

We meet in the ANZAC room which is just past the reception area up one flight of stairs.

You may like to take out a membership of Ashfield RSL which entitles you to discounts on food and beverages. It may be worthwhile to join if you plan on attending more than one meeting as it is also quicker to sign into the Club.
